

‘How do I survive and thrive as an internal OD consultant?’

ODN Europe’s First Connect Group for Internal Consultants

28 March 2019, 9.30am to 4.45pm

University of London Student Central Meeting Rooms,
Malet St, London WC1E 7HY (near Euston Station)

The Organisational Development Network (Europe) is launching an inquiry to explore what it takes to survive and thrive as an internal OD consultant. You are invited to join the first face to face meeting.

At this first meeting you can expect to:

- Connect: with other internal OD consultants in a valuable, shared inquiry
- Discern: what is most needed for you to survive and thrive in your context
- Be Nourished: through learning and encouragement
- Be Equipped: applying practical approaches to progress real client issues
- Agree: if this is a one day wonder or if there is more to discover together

Open to members and non-members at no charge.

Spaces limited to the first 50 to register

Register by contacting Donna Tuck at info@ODNEurope.org

<https://www.odneurope.org/>